Adult Christian Formation in 2017

Hit the ground running with us this month, as we continue our well-received Preacher–Teacher Lecture Series, bring back a class for Inquirers’, and offer up a few new classes. We hope all will find meaningful and engaging classes and that you will engage the materials and subjects offered, engage each other, and engage God.

Preacher-Teacher: Craig Cleland

The Violent Bear It Away – Matthew’s Jesus in Turbulent Times.
Sunday, January 8, 9:00 and 11:15 a.m.
preaching in the church,
10:20 a.m. lecture in Ellis Hall
Conflict, disorder, and destruction reign around the First Jewish War when Matthew draws his Christ. A fleet-footed tour of Romans, Jews, Jewish Christians, and Matthew’s Jesus in convulsive times – not unlike our own – and a lead-in to our Year A gospel.

Craig, a longtime All Saints’ parishioner, is a partner at Ogletree Deakins law firm, where he represents clients in complex litigation. A former chaplain, teacher, and coach at The Lovett School, Craig is an honors graduate of Valdosta State College, Vanderbilt University Divinity School, Yale University Divinity School, and Georgia State College of Law, where he was Editor-in-Chief of the Law Review.

The Inspired Songs and Soul of Leonard Cohen

Sundays, January 8, 15, 22
10:20 a.m., Fireplace Room, Tate Hall
This three-week class will explore the creative genius of Leonard Cohen’s inspired life, poetry, and music. We will discuss his lyrics and watch video performances of his songs with a focus on his faith and profound spirituality. Facilitated by Bryan Vroon

Contact The Rev. Kimberly Jackson at 404–267–4276 or kjackson@allsaintsatlanta.org.

Samaritan Readers

Sing for Your Life, by Daniel Bergner
Wednesday, January 11, 6:30–8:00 p.m.
in the Fireplace Room, Tate Hall
Join this group as they discuss Sing for Your Life, by Daniel Bergner, the story of Ryan Speedo Green whose more than challenging childhood in a racially charged South, that included time in solitary confinement at a juvenile facility, did not silence his extraordinary gift from God – his voice. In 2011, he beat out 1,200 other competitors for a chance to sing with the Metropolitan Opera where he still performs today. Please join us in learning more about the life of this amazing man.

To sign up contact Jenn Waters at faithhopelove42@yahoo.com.

Novel Theology

All The King’s Men, by Robert Penn Warren
Wednesday, January 18, 7:00–8:00 p.m.
in the Fireplace Room, Tate Hall
Published just over seventy years ago, the Pulitzer Prize winning All The King’s Men still stands as one of the great novels of American politics and the complex ways in which the personal, the political, the cultural and the historical converge for us all. Join Novel Theology for this timely discussion.

For more information contact Jenn Waters at faithhopelove42@yahoo.com or visit allsaintsatlanta.org/formation/adult-formation/ongoing/novel-theology.

Church 101

Sundays, January 22 through February 19, 10:20 a.m. in the church
Start in the bell tower and work toward the high altar learning terms, customs, legends, stories and reasons why we do what we do. This course will help provide answers to questions you might not even know you had as we move from the furthest to the nearest of places Episcopalians consider holy and sacred. The class will meet in the church each week. For week one, please gather in the narthex outside the bell tower.

Contact The Rev. Kimberly Jackson at 404–267–4276 or kjackson@allsaintsatlanta.org.

The Singing Sisters
The Singing Sisters Choir from Ebenezer Baptist Church, directed by Laura English-Robinson, will be our guest choir this month. This is the ninth year this women’s choral ensemble has celebrated the Martin Luther King weekend and Ecumenical Sunday with us. Laura English-Robinson sang in the All Saints’ Choir for over 20 years and teaches voice at Spelman College in Atlanta. We look forward to having Laura and The Singing Sisters with us again this year.

Sunday, January 15
9:00 and 11:15 a.m. in the church

Saints and Service
“Many hands make light work.” Join us as we make sandwiches for the Emmanuel House Help Center that will distribute them to people who use walk-in assistance centers. Some will also be kept here in our freezers to hand out to those in need around this block. Last year we made 1000 sandwiches in 40 minutes! It’s fun with a purpose and everyone is invited!

Five More Great Composers; Five More Great Masterpieces

Sundays, January 22 through February 19, 10:20 a.m. in the Ross Room

Music is one of our Creator’s greatest gifts and one we can celebrate further by learning more about the great classics. Join Bob Edge, a lawyer with a passion for music and teaching, to sharpen your ears! This month his listening/musical appreciation class will focus on Vivaldi’s Four Seasons, Donizetti’s Don Pasquale, Franck’s Sonata for Violin and Piano, Grieg’s Piano Concerto in A Minor, and Bartok’s Concerto for Orchestra. Contact The Rev. Kimberly Jackson at 404-267-4276 or kjackson@allsaintsatlanta.org.

New Weekly Offerings

Parenting with God

Mondays, beginning January 23; 9:30–11:30 a.m., P303/Nursery

Monday Morning Moms returns in January with a new twist – we’re making the circle wider! All who parent are welcome: moms, dads, grandparents... this group is open to all who serve as parents now, in the past, and will be in the future. At our first meeting, let’s gather, snack, drink coffee and decide what we would like this group to be. We’re thinking of using the Brene Brown book The Gifts of Imperfection as a guide for our winter meetings. Childcare will be available, but you will need to RSVP so we have an idea of how many children to expect. Contact The Rev. Kimberly Jackson at kjackson@allsaintsatlanta.org; to RSVP email Kathy Roberts at kroberts@allsaintsatlanta.org.

Adult Inquirers’ Class

Wednesdays, January 4–February 22, 6:30–8:30 p.m. in the Ross Room

This class is for anyone seeking to be baptized as an adult, looking to join The Episcopal Church, or simply needing a refresher course. Join The Rev. Kimberly Jackson and other clergy for Adult Inquirers’ Classes. There is a $25 fee per adult for the materials, and childcare is available upon request. The class retreat will be held February 24–25 at Montara Farm. Contact The Rev. Kimberly Jackson at 404-267-4276 or kjackson@allsaintsatlanta.org to sign up.

Continuing Weekly Offerings

Jesus on the Front Page

Resumes Sunday, January 8; 10:20 a.m., P307

A look at the news exploring how we can understand each other better, open channels of communication, and what it is to which our faith calls us...to “praying the headlines.” Contact Ethel Ware Carter at ethelware@aol.com.

Kerygma: Monday Afternoon Discussion Group

Mondays, resumes January 9, 2:00–3:00 p.m., P307

This group enjoys in-depth Bible study with occasional breaks to study the Book of Common Prayer, the lives of the saints, and other topics of interest to our common life as Christians and Episcopalians. Facilitated by The Rev. Karen Evans. New groups are always forming! Contact Steve Hines at jobguvu@aol.com.

Education for Ministry (EFM)

Tuesdays, resumes January 4, 6:30 p.m., Shaffer Room/P301

Every baptized person is called to ministry. This four-year program of the School of Theology of the University of the South (Sewanee) provides people with the education to carry out that ministry. New groups are always forming! Contact Steve Hines at jobguvu@aol.com.

Exploring Faith Together

Wednesdays, resumes January 4, 7:00–8:30 p.m. in the Egleston Library

Theology matters. What we think and how we think about God and Jesus shapes how we live in community with one another and how we live our lives. We read and discuss enjoyable, theologically-centered works by a variety of new and familiar voices. Contact Brooke Dixon at jbdixon@bellsouth.net.

Contemplative Prayer

Wednesdays, resumes January 4, 7:00–8:30 p.m., P202

Be still and know that I am God...Psalm 46:10. Learn about the centuries-old practice of this type of prayer, avail ourselves of readings for reflection and discussion, and set aside time to engage in the discipline of centering prayer. Contact Gretchen Chateau at jetteyeknight@hotmail.com.

For more information and details about upcoming Adult Christian Formation classes be sure to keep an eye on allsaintsatlanta.org/news-events.
Vestry Notes

From the meeting on November 21, 2016

Charlie Ogburn reported that the parish is financially sound and that the Buy the Block loan has been paid down to just over $500,000.

Katrina Newton provided a recommendation for stream lining vestry committee assignments and the vestry agreed on the importance of partnering with the staff and clergy and/or inviting other members of the congregation into lay partnership as we ensure the vibrancy of programs and ministries at All Saints’.

Ellen Hayes reported that we have received 609 pledges to date and that we are about 30 pledges behind where we were last year.

The meeting was then adjourned following a time of prayer.

All vestry meetings are open and meet at 4:30 p.m. in 305/306 of the Parish House with dates announced in The All Saints’ Monthly.

Healing Hearts, Changing Minds: A Conversation with Heval Kelli

In 2001 Heval Kelli and his family came to Clarkston from Syria via Germany when Heval was just seventeen years old, and they became an All Saints’ refugee resettlement family. Heval is now a Cardiology fellow at Emory University’s School of Medicine. In Heval’s Tedx talk on September 30, he said that despite the fact that his family was of a different faith, the members of All Saints’ were the most crucial part of helping his family find their footing.

“My mother was wearing a headscarf. You couldn’t ignore the fact that we were Muslim,” he recalls.

“And still, the church members were the biggest part. And that is how the world should function.”

Heval volunteers at the Clarkston Community Health Clinic which offers free services to patients with no insurance. Heval will talk about his experience with All Saints’ and his ideas of how to offer the greatest help to the refugee community.

Sunday, January 22 10:20–11:05 a.m. in Ellis Hall
For more information contact Louisa Merchant at 404–267–4274 or louisam@allsaintsatlanta.org.
